CHRISTMAS 2011

This month's newsletter is kindly sponsored by
ALL SAINTS CHURCH RUDSTON

Editor's Piece.

Hello and welcome to this month's Newsletter.

Another year gone by quick as a flash, I'm just hoping we can escape a bit more of the snow we had last year, though I doubt the kids would think that, it's such great fun for them. I remember, as a child the excitement of seeing the fresh fall of snow and bringing out the Sledge, for another happy winter time, sledging in the snow.

There will be some great film's coming to Rudston Cinema starting with Harry Potter & Deathly Hallows showing on the 16th December, followed by The Kings Speech on the 27th January and in February , Narnia Voyage of the Dawn Raider on the 27th February. All these films start at 6.30pm in Rudston Village Hall, the cost only £2.50

The Christmas Fair was by all accounts a brilliant day with Father Christmas present and many stalls selling lots of lovely Christmas goodies. All this effort helped to provide a Christmas Party for the children.

Some of you may be anxious that the Newsletter has not arrived by the 1st of the month, sorry, but we all try our best, it cannot always be guaranteed of course as we do this voluntarily and commitments for us all at times do not allow for it to be produced by the first day of the month.

Thanks to Philip Crossland for his article on "sweets" page 14, sorry Phillip I cannot guarantee a "bumper " Jan/Feb 2011 Newsletter, but as I said, we do our best.

All that's left is to wish all our readers a very "Happy and Healthy , Warm and Wonderful Christmas & New Year "

Announcements

RUDSTON VILLAGE HALL

We have now had two film shows in the village hall, the first one Toy Story was well supported with forty people attending, the second Some Like it Hot did not get the same support with only twenty eight people attending. This was rather disappointing as the films and equipment are expensive to hire, we are planning to have three more film shows before deciding whether or not to continue with them in the future.

The next film is Harry Potter and Deathly Hallows on Friday 16th December at 6-30pm. The January showing will be The Kings Speech on Friday 27th January 2012 and in February it will be Narnia Voyage of the Dawn Trader on Friday 24th February.

We do hope you will come along with friends and family to enjoy these film shows.

We do thank everyone who has supported us in the past and hope you will continue to do so in the future.

On behalf of all the village hall committee members may I wish you all a very Happy Christmas and all the best of health and happiness for the coming year

Teresa & Pat would like to say a big thank you to everyone who supported our Christmas Fair. What a lovely day it was, despite the weather. A big thank you to all the behind the scenes helpers and those who donated prizes etc. Without their help we couldn't have done it. A big thank you to Tuffnell Glass who were a great support. We look forward to a children's party in January.

Please let Pat at Buttercup Cottage or Teresa at Church House Farm Know the name and age of party going children. A date will be announced soon.

RUDSTON BOWLS CLUB THANKS

In 1985 we were persuaded to take on Rudston Bowls Club Secretary and Treasurer posts for one year (Chairman a little later)

Twenty six years later we have resigned from the posts. We enjoyed it all and of course playing bowls. We met some lovely people along the way and it was fun.

At the recent Club annual luncheon at the Expanse Hotel we were stunned to be presented with a "retirement" card and garden vouchers. We wish to say thank you to all the Club members for their most generous contributions.

To Jean, Kathleen , David and the rest of the committee we hope you enjoy it as much as we did and may the Club continue to be a success.

Pauline and Richard Warters.

Become a Time Lord for Rudston

“Stands the church clock at ten to three? And is there honey still for tea?” are two of the best known and loved lines in English poetry. However – in the case of our beautiful church in Rudston – the clock on the north-facing tower has stood at 12.05 for decades.

From the first moment I arrived in the village, I have – literally – wanted to put this right and next year’s proposed repairs and renovations to the church roof present the perfect opportunity. Along with like-minded friends and neighbours, I want to raise the funds necessary to repair the clock in conjunction with the building work.

The idea is to offer our small community the opportunity to sponsor time – to become Time Lords. Everyone will be able to buy one minute – or more – of each hour and have the minute named after them. The cost will be as follows:-

For every minute of one hour - £5 (48 minutes x £5 = £240)

For every 5 minutes past and to one hour, excluding the quarters, - £25 (8 x £25 = £200)

For a Quarter past and a Quarter to one hour - £150 (2 x £150 = £300)

For the Half hour - £200

For the Hour - £400

If we sell every slot, we will raise £1,340 The estimate for repairs is £1,125.00 plus vat

I have already signed up headline sponsors for the Quarters, Half and Hour – which has placed us well on target.

From 3rd December, at the back of the church, there will be a replica of a clock face, divided into 60 minutes with space for sponsors to write their names against the moment in time they wish to “own”. What better Christmas present would there be than to buy your loved-one their own moment of time – a moment which will be theirs for ever?

Rudston’s heritage is all about time. The village has witnessed events for thousands of years – indeed, it claims to be the oldest constantly inhabited village in England – and, from the age when villagers relied on the church bells to ring out the passing of time to our 21st century’s need to be time-aware, the church and its clock have been at the centre of village life.

I am confident that our generous community will help to ensure that the clock’s static time-face moves again. This would be a great testimony to Rudston – The Time Village.

For more details please contact myself, June Sellars or Simon Dawson.

Paul Potts

A certificate will be issued to everyone owning a minute of time in Rudston and a permanent record of the "Time Lords" as "Guardians of time in Rudston" will be kept in Church for posterity.

The sponsorship of time will be launched at the Church coffee/tea event on 3rd December from 10am until 2pm in Rudston Village Hall when I hope to be with you to help you reserve your "Chosen minute of time in Rudston".

Please bring the amount of money required with you or a cheque made payable to Rudston P.C.C. As this will save time in collecting money at a later date and will secure your "Chosen Moment in Time"

If you are a tax payer you can also gift aid the amount, which means the Church gets back the tax you have paid on that amount.

After that event you will be able to reserve any minutes left over by entering your name on the replica clock face which will be kept in Church and by filling in the appropriate application form. (instructions as how to do this will be

Nature News

Our summer visiting birds have long gone but because of the open weather some species, notably late swallows and warblers, lingered for longer than usual. Winter visitors arrived and have mostly passed through with fieldfares, redwings and obviously migrant song thrushes and blackbirds arriving in numbers. Waxwings made a brief appearance but have now moved on. Both short eared and long eared owls have been reported around the village and our local tawny owls have been noisily staking claims to territory. Little owls, scarce recently, have again been seen on the outskirts of the village. A kingfisher reappeared but with the Gypsy Race being almost non-existent in the village has moved to more productive areas. Woodpeckers seem to have had a productive breeding season and have been reported by several people feeding at their personal feeding station and for a short time there were several siskins in the area.

One notably unseasonal feature has been the second coming of some of the early summer flowers and with them ladybirds have still been active as have October reports of red admiral butterflies. The other creature reported regularly has been the stoat particularly towards the northern side of the village, running across the roads, and in a similar vein there have been several reports of deer in the area.

This is the season for mushrooms and toadstools and in spite of the dry weather several species, particularly those like the bracket fungi, have produced a fruiting body but a number of terrestrial species, ink caps in particular, have made an appearance.

The year has been exceptionally long and good for moths, continuing right up to the middle of Nov, with less often recorded species like the sprawler, autumnal and December moths appearing.

The conservation roadside verges between the village and Wolgate and a stretch along the roadside to Burton Fleming have been managed and marked with posts to inform of their existence

SWEET MEMORIES by Phillip Crossland

A magazine feature about the confectionery firm of Swizzells-Matlow got me reminiscing. Apparently, since the take over of Cadbury's last year, they are now the largest remaining family owned sweet manufacturer in the country. There were once a lot, and I have recalled a few (though not all family owned), some of which you may remember.

Forty or fifty years ago, a lot of sweets arrived with the shopkeeper (packed "loose" to be weighed out for customers. Most of those were in jars of thick glass, packed six to a crate they were returnable with a deposit of two shillings. Weight varied with each product between 4lb and 6lb. The label also showed the retail price per ¼ lb. Prices were "fixed" (re-sale price maintenance) so they were the same for any identical product in any shop. (Things were simpler in those pre - supermarket days!)

A large town centre sweet shop could probably deal directly with the manufacturer, but for most others including village "general stores", there were wholesalers. In Rudston, for the Post Office (newly arrived Mr and Mrs Mills), and Mr and Mrs Hall's shop on the corner of Long Street and Eastgate, for both their grocery and confectionery needs, there was Lance & Co. of Driffield. (Which is where I came in)

Yorkshire was bristling with sweet manufacturers, Needlers of Hull, for Jersey Toffee, and a vast range besides. In York there was Rowntrees, but also two others:- Cravens (best English mints and sugared almonds) and Terry's chocolates. Joseph Terry & sons were the older established. One of their assortments was named "1767" and made a superior chocolate, which was reflected in the price. "Chocolate orange" was actually a successful down-grading to produce a more "everyday" product.

Rowntrees are familiar enough, and suffice to remark that Quality Street was a Mackintosh brand from a separate company in Halifax. Similarly, Glacier Mints were made by Fox's of Batley. Another West Yorkshire company was Lion, who produced, Wine Gums, Midget Gems, Fruit Pastilles, etc. There was also Maxon who had a wide range in jars, notably Yorkshire Mixture. Bassetts, (Licorice Allsorts, Dolly Mixtures) were always a favourite, along with Wilkinsons (Pontefract Cakes). Barratts (Sherbet Fountains) also produced, penny and four a penny items. Names of those were numerous. And other manufacturers included Dunhill (Cola Bottles) and Alma (White mice) Further afield, chiefly there were Cadbury's and newcomers, Mars. Cadbury also took over other companies, notably Frys (Turkish Delight etc.)

I don't know how many of those names exist still. Swizzells only added "Matlow" in later years, but it was interesting to read that they still produce Love Hearts Double Lollies and Drumstick Lollies. It was a lady working on the production line for Rainbow Drops, who provided a final highlight of the article though., apparently, she was a girl in Junior School, and one day the class was asked about their parents work. The little girl announced "My Mum makes Rainbows!" Now, that is sweet.

From the Vicarage,

By the time you read this the countdown to Christmas will be well underway. Keep your eyes peeled for a poster that should springing up at bus stops and public places across the country. The picture re-sets the nativity in modern professions and high street fashions. Shepherds become cycle couriers and plasterers. Wise men are successful entrepreneurs and their gifts are iconic "treasures" of modern culture: a Swarovski crystal perfume bottle, a Faberge egg and a replica Damian Hirst skull. All are sharply dressed. But the traditional nativity arrangement is unchanged, with Jesus as its clear focus. And the message is compelling: "However you dress it up... Christmas Starts with Christ".

What a great message and rest assured that at All Saints we will be keeping Christ at the centre of our celebrations. Let's have fun and celebrate but not forget the greatest gift of all; Christmas starts with Christ. (if you don't manage to see the poster, don't worry, I'll put a copy in the church porch!)

Have a very merry and blessed Christmas, Glyn

Crosslands Column

Well, events can certainly catch you out ! I had no idea about the Bosville of course, when I remarked last month about the village pubs difficulties Let's hope someone else" takes up the challenge" there, and before Christmas preferably.. Also, the joke about applying to the E.U. for funding isn't so funny any more, they are the ones in need it seems.

Apart from a minor amendment, nothing more has been heard from East Riding of Yorkshire Council about the Thornholme Wind Farm proposals, at the time of writing. It was interesting to read that these turbines even affect Staxton radar though, and that the station were also mounting an objection. Then, a fortnight later came the news that some scientist had found a way of enabling the radar to tell the difference between that and flying objects. (Oh well!)

The thing about wind farms is that we still don't seem to know if all controversy they bring is going to be worthwhile. The government are splashing large amounts of (our) money on them regardless. Prince Philip, in his usual forthright manner, is in no doubt that it is all a waste of time. Given the number of times I have looked across to Lissett and seen the blades turning slowly, or not at all and thought, "they aren't paying their way today", I'm inclined to agree with him.

Another wind farm, this time an off- shore proposal on the Dogger Bank, has also come up now. This one may be out at sea, but apparently it involves a "cable connection" coming ashore at Barmston en route to Cottingham. Consequently it shouldn't really effect Rudston, but there are to be public exhibitions for anyone interested. Our nearest is at Bridlington Spa on Tuesday, 6th December, running from 2 to 8pm. What with these and other meetings on subjects which may affect Rudston in one way or another outside the village, some parish council members are being kept busy. Those which are open to all are usually advertised in the village and a poster for one in Kilham about internet connections was displayed accordingly.

A poster which may not get displayed, due to its large size, advertises an "East Riding Youth Dance Platform" to be held at The Spa Theatre on Sunday 4th December. Admission for adults £6, Spa Box Office 01262 678258 There will probably have been two parish council meetings before the next newsletter, with the one on the last day of November being followed by one in January. Compliments of the Season to one and all, on behalf of the parish council.

ITALIAN CHOCOLATE NUT CHRISTMAS CAKE

From Delia's Happy Christmas Cook Book

225g dark chocolate

25g unsalted butter(melted & slightly cooled, plus a bit for the tin)

2tblspns fine breadcrumbs 225g whole blanched hazelnuts

225g walnut pieces 200g golden caster sugar

5 drops vanilla extract 65 ml brandy

1 tspn ground cinnamon 5 eggs, separated

1 large orange (wash orange then peel, and finely chopped

20cm round loose bottomed cake tin

Preheat oven to 180 degrees / Gas Mark 4

Butter cake tin and sprinkle with breadcrumbs. Put hazelnuts and walnut pieces into food processor, break in the chocolate and add to nuts. Pulse the machine on and off until mixture is a grainy texture, but not ground. Transfer into a large bowl stir in the vanilla extract, brandy, cinnamon, melted butter and sugar, mix thoroughly. Now gradually add the egg yolks and finally the orange peel. Next, whisk egg whites to a stiff peak and gently fold into the mixture, with a metal spoon a few tablespoons at a time, cutting through the mixture with a high movement to incorporate plenty of air.

Spoon the mixture into the cake tin and bake for about 1 hour to 1 hour 10 mins. Cover the cake with greaseproof paper for the last 10 minutes if it becomes too brown.

The cake is ready when springy to the touch. Leave for 2 minutes in the tin then turn out onto a wire rack to cool. Store in the fridge , wrapped in foil for up to 2 weeks. The cake will also freeze well. Can be served at tea time or as a dessert. Either way it's great with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.
