Editor's Piece.

Hello and welcome to this month's Newsletter.

It's Newsletter time once again; next stop Christmas! I am sure some shops will already be selling greeting cards, etc. by now. According to the news, Rochdale have already put their festive illuminations in place; whether they have actually turned them on yet, I am not sure.

Well, what a summer it's been weather-wise, scorching sunshine along with flooding - we shouldn't grumble but we do, that just part of being British. If it's too hot we moan - if it's too windy we moan - if it's too wet we moan. The weather has a hard job pleasing us lot.

It's been a busy summer break, with many local activities and events taking place, such as Rudston House Open Garden and the Youth Club BBQ (The Fun Day with Pinky Ellis took place after the Newsletter deadline). One new event for Rudston, and one that was received well, was the Rudstock Music Festival at the Bosville Arms.

The picture on the front cover is the Rudston Youth Club dancers, the first entrants to take to the stage for the children's talent contest, which was eventually won by Becky Arundel. There were many 'turns' performing over the two days and my favourite had to be 'Castles Made Of Sand'; the young lead guitarist was absolutely brilliant, a gifted player. I hope we see more of him and his band.

Whoa! Where did those come from? Drivers who travel to Bridlington will know exactly what I mean - the 30 mph signs that start near Low Caythorpe and end on the brow of Boynton Hill. Why? It has obviously got to do with the gas storage site, but come on, after all these years is 30 mph really necessary. What next, speed bumps?

All Saints Church Social Committee

The Church will be highly decorated during the first weekend of September, with quilts, stitch work, and accompanying flower arrangements for our:

STITCHES AND STEMS EXHIBITION

5th, 6th, and 7th September

Mrs Joan Drake has lent us some magnificent Quilts that she has made over several years, and they feature different subjects and examples of quilt making, which have been an inspiration to those who have been interpreting them to enhance with a floral arrangement. They also pose a challenge for us to hang and exhibit in Church as they vary in size from 7 ft by 8 ft to 24 inch by 18 inch.

Many people have been planning and preparing for this, our big fund raiser, for many weeks. I hope people will visit the Church to view the exhibits and enjoy some refreshments too. There will be a cake, produce and gift stall so if you could make us some cakes or spare some of your garden produce or preserves, we would be very grateful for any contributions for the stall. Just bring them along to Church on Saturday, Sunday or Monday to sell between 11 am. and 6 pm. We are fortunate to have some visiting organists to play during the festival.

There are still tickets available for the PRE-VIEW EVENING on FRIDAY 4TH SEPTEMBER from 7 to 9 pm.

Tickets are £10 which include a glass of wine and finger buffet supper in Church. They are available from June Sellers 420237 or Jean Corner 420622. There will also be a raffle and some guessing games.

This event promises to be one of the Highlights of the Church year so PLEASE COME and support, enjoy and admire the talents we have to offer.

There will also be the usual Harvest Festival and following Harvest Supper in the first week of October.

With best wishes, thanking you for your support in the past and hoping for it in the future.

Mortgage Basics

For most of us our mortgage represents the most significant financial arrangement in our lives, allowing us to buy the property of our dreams and continue to live in our homes for as long as we choose to do so.

Whatever the marketing men tell us, there are only two basic types of Mortgage; Interest Only and Capital & Interest also known as Repayment. Looking at the first of these, an interest only mortgage allows for the lender to advance a sum of money to the borrower on which the borrower makes a monthly payment to the lender of only interest on the sum borrowed. This means that at the end of the mortgage term the borrower will still owe the full amount originally borrowed. So if you borrow £50,000 over 25 Years, you will still owe £50,000 at the end of the term. It remains the borrower's responsibility to repay the loan at this time.

A Repayment mortgage on the other hand means that the borrower is required to make a monthly payment to the lender which consists of interest on the sum borrowed AND a repayment of part of the amount originally borrowed. In this way the borrower owes a little less every month such that by the end of the term the mortgage balance has reduced to zero. If the borrower maintains the monthly payment for the agreed term, the mortgage balance is GUARANTEED to be zero. So if you borrow £50,000 over 25 years, you will owe £0 at the end of the term.

Once you've selected your basic mortgage, you must then decide on the type of mortgage product you require from the many deals available:

The starting point, for most lenders, is the Standard Variable Rate (SVR). This is the rate of interest payable, determined by the lender at their discretion. The interest rate may fall or rise, usually as a result of changes to the Bank of England Base Rate (BBR) as determined by the Bank of England Monetary Policy Committee. This means that your monthly mortgage payment will increase or reduce as the SVR varies.

A Discounted Rate Mortgage allows for the interest rate payable to be discounted by a set percentage from the lender's SVR for a specific period. Even though the discount applies, as the SVR varies your monthly mortgage payments will continue to rise and fall.

A Tracker Mortgage allows for the interest rate payable to track the BBR (or some other similar benchmark) and is either a set percentage above the BBR or a set percentage below the BBR, for a pre-determined period. Again, as the BBR varies your monthly payments will rise or fall accordingly.

A Fixed Rate Mortgage means that the interest rate is fixed for a pre-determined period of time. This means that during the term that the fixed rate applies, your monthly mortgage payment will not change at all, even if the SVR and/or BBR vary.

A Cap or Collar may apply to any mortgage, the Cap being an upper limit and the Collar being a lower limit. In the event of a mortgage with a CAP, your monthly mortgage payment will increase and reduce in line with changes to the interest rate. Once the interest rate hits the Cap there will be no more increases to your monthly mortgage payment whilst the interest remains above the Cap. The same is true of the Collar when interest rates are falling. Your monthly mortgage payment will continue to rise and fall as interest rates change until the rate falls below the Collar, in which eventuality your monthly mortgage payment will remain at the rate determined by the collar, until rates rise above this level.

As there is such a bewildering array of different mortgage deals available it is absolutely essential to seek advice from a competent Mortgage Adviser. However, one mortgage adviser may not be the same as another. If you choose to seek advice from your bank, the bank's adviser will be able to choose a mortgage from those marketed only by the bank. A very limited choice when compared to those available in the wider mortgage market. Your mortgage adviser may be 'tied' to a panel of lenders allowing them to select a mortgage from a pre-determined panel of lenders, not as limited as a bank adviser, yet still restricted to those lenders on the panel. Ideally you should seek advice from an Independent 'Whole of market' Adviser who will be able to select a mortgage from all available lenders and thus ensure that you receive the mortgage that best meets your circumstances, not one that is merely a close fit.

Rudston Tennis Club News

Men's teams successes

Matches have only just finished, as there were lots of postponements due to bad weather. The results are not yet finalised but both Men's teams have secured promotion.

Disappointingly, the junior coaching course, free to members, held during the second week of the school summer holidays was not full. However, those that came thoroughly enjoyed themselves, had fun, and benefited from some quality coaching.

The end of season American tournament will be held on Sunday September 6th, 2 pm. onwards. All welcome, no need for a partner, just bring a contribution to the shared tea.

Advance notice of the AGM and Club dinner - this will be held on Friday 13th November.

We are keeping a club session going again on Sunday mornings throughout the year – if you are interested in playing please come along, everyone is welcome. If you want to be sure there will be at least 4 people there, please ring Peter Crossley on 420462

Disappointingly, there are still incidents of the tennis courts being used for activities for which they are not designed. This causes damage to the playing surface. If anyone sees the courts being used for anything other than tennis, please ask the people involved to play elsewhere on the field. Resurfacing of the courts is very expensive and we keep membership fees low to enable everyone access, so we do not have the funds to repair unnecessary damage.

If there are any people new to the village who would like to join the tennis club, please contact Jane Crossley on 420462.

Thank you

I would like to thank everybody who sent cards, flowers, and presents to me on my birthday. Thanks, also, to people who wished me well on my very short stay in hospital. This also includes family, friends, and neighbours. I am now feeling much better.

Thanks again, Olive M

Can you believe it's that time again when we think about filling a Shoe Box? We were talking about it the other day and came to the realization that these children know nothing about recession as we know it, because they have always lived in recession, struggling to exist with very little food or comforts.

So it's with this in mind we ask you once again to fill a Shoe Box and bring some joy to the lives of these young people at Christmas. One hundred and eighteen boxes last year let's see what we can achieve this year.

As usual I will deliver the leaflets early in October, which explain the items you can include. In the meantime I have heard of many of you already knitting gloves and scarves, and do thank you very much for your continued support. I do have a few empty boxes, which I would be pleased to cover for you. Thanks once again.

Local Author

You may be interested to know that local author, John Sugden, of Middle Street, has just published a novel called 'Sing Shenandoah for Me.'

The novel is John Sugden's fifth book having, written psychology books in the past, a children's book, and many academic articles. John Sugden is also a published and prize winning poet. In 2003, his verse play about the Hull whaling ship, the 'Diana,' beset with ice in the Bering Sea in 1857, was performed at Waterstones, Scarborough, to commemorate National Poetry Day. In 2007, John, together with fellow members of Scarborough Poetry Workshop, was a guest reader at the International Poetry Festival in Cortona, Italy.

The novel is set in the 1960s in the West Yorkshire conurbation, and features five years in the turbulent relationship of a young couple. The publishers have said of the story, that it '...weaves the jealousies of courtship and the strains of marriage into a love that, confronted with an impossible decision, even death cannot end, tying us into it with a jolt that makes us rethink love, life and success.' John also awaits the publication of a second novel (sometime in 2010) called 'Winter' concerning the death of a psychoanalyst.

The novel is available via most good bookshops, or on the Internet from the publishers at www.austinmacauley.com

Yorkshire Day

On 1st August I attended the Yorkshire Day celebrations at Hessle, at the invitation of the Chairman of the East Riding of Yorkshire Council and Hessle Town Council.

The event began with a service at All Saints Church. During an amusing but thought provoking sermon, the Vicar told us that although Yorkshire had not been mentioned in the Bible the East Riding had, when the story is told of wise men coming from the East Riding

After the service the Civic party, resplendent with mayoral chains, and other guests, were led by the Town Crier to an area in the Square, where the Yorkshire Declaration was read in Modern English by Councillor Christopher Matthews, Chairman of ERYC. The Declaration was then read in Old English, Latin, Old Norse, and Yorkshire dialect.

YORKSHIRE DECLARATION OF INTEGRITY

I, Christopher Matthews, being resident in the East Riding of Yorkshire declare:

- That Yorkshire is three Ridings and the City of York with these Boundaries of 1134 years standing;
- That the address of all places in these Ridings is YORKSHIRE;
- That all persons born therein or resident therein and loyal to the Ridings are Yorkshire men and women;
- That any person or corporate body which deliberately ignores or denies the aforementioned shall forfeit all claim to Yorkshire status.

This declaration made this Yorkshire Day 2009

Yorkshire for Ever!

God Save the Queen!

Councillor Matthews then cut the Yorkshire Day cake, and cake and wine were served to all. There were displays and stalls in the Square; face painting and balloon modelling kept the children amused.

The celebrations ended with lunch in the Town Hall.

I found the event rewarding and moving. I met interesting people from different parts of the county and enjoyed visiting Hesse. As a "foreigner" I was pleased to see that I can still be a Yorkshire woman, as a resident of and loyal to Yorkshire!

Nature News

The summer period has again been quiet on the bird front but a pair of buzzards have tried to breed, and it seems that they have been successful. Barn owls have also bred in at least two separate sites round the village. There have been reports of a hen harrier hunting for a few days but he has moved on. It is known to be a male because of the substantially grey plumage. A green sandpiper, presumably a failed breeder, has been seen in muddy patches by the Gypsy Race but no other returning migrant birds have been noted. On the other hand, the swifts, which were visible and noisy all summer, have almost, but not completely, left us for more southerly climes.

A couple of badgers have been reported as road casualties but there have been several reports of live badgers seen in many areas surrounding the village. Bats, almost exclusively pipistrelles, have been recorded by the East Yorkshire bat group at several sites in and around the village. Interestingly, they have deserted one regular breeding roost, had a temporary move to another site in the village, and have returned to the known site after breeding has finished. It was not until the beginning of July when the first reports of hedgehogs were mentioned, and it appears that the creature is becoming much scarcer.

The immigration of painted lady butterflies, reported a couple of months ago, gradually moved inland and the species has been recorded all over Yorkshire in substantial numbers. There are still several to be seen and some of them are fresh specimens suggesting that they have produced another generation locally. The gatekeeper butterfly is only seen locally from time to time but there have been a substantial number of sightings this summer. After reporting earlier that moth numbers were low, there has been a substantial increase in numbers of the commoner species but only one new moth has been added to our local list, when a light brocade was trapped in July.

Banter from the Bosville.

For once I've managed to get "Victor" back in his box, so now I can talk about good things that have happened.

RUDSTOCK – What a weekend, was it good or was it good. My thanks go to everyone who helped and took part in a great weekend. The bands were great and the music was fabulous. The finale on Sunday night by Barry Peters and Iain Campbell as the Blues Brothers was truly great; in fact it was so great that they will be doing it all over again, plus more, on Friday 9th October.

The winner of the Kids Talent contest was Becky Arundel. This was a very close choice as the second placed singer was also very good. Having to hand over £100 of our own money almost caused me to have another heart attack. Oh yes, I almost forgot, I had a heart attack a short while ago and spent sometime in Grantham Hospital but I'm fine now. Let's not forget Rudston's very own 'Sister Act', whose performance was outstanding, so let's hope that it will not be the only time we see them on the stage at the Bosville.

Don't Forget FRIDAY 9th OCTOBER, THE BLUES BROTHERS RETURN

SPORTS NEWS

The summer pool team is doing very well; they are second in the league as of the latest results.

FOOD NEWS

We have some great offers on meals coming up shortly and with the Sunday Carvery in full swing it is definitely worth a visit to the Bosville. So just to get things started for all you regular supporters of the Bosville, if you bring this edition of the Newsletter with you on a Sunday you will get £1 per person off the price of the Carvery.
(whose idea was that! if the whole village turns up on a Sunday I will probably have another heart attack)

That's all for now folks, Alan

From the Vicarage

Here comes September; back to school, back to college, back to work, back to football, even back to Church!. September is a month of fresh starts, some change and there's plenty happening. One or two things that I think are worth mentioning. Trailblazers restarts on 6th September and the first one is at the home of Joyce and Dave Peace starting at the usual time of 9.30 am. When I said September is back to church I didn't mean just returning after a holiday because nationally 27th September is "Back to Church Sunday". People in quite a few churches (including Rudston) make a special effort to invite a friend to church on that day. You might well ask why you should need an invite to go to church. Of course anyone is welcome anytime but going anywhere you are not really used to can be difficult. Even going into a pub, if you are not familiar with it, is difficult for some of us. Going along to church with someone you know makes things much more comfortable and who knows where it might lead.

September is also a big day for the church at Rudston because it sees the "Stitches and Stems" exhibition (see above). Just before I started at Rudston there was a flower festival on the theme of Wilberforce and the abolition of slavery. It was a stunning festival and I know many were moved and thrilled by the exhibitions and the skills of those who created them. I can't wait to see what this festival brings. So if you manage to get to any or all of the above I look forward to seeing you there.

Crosslands Column

There will have been a parish council meeting on 19th August, but with the large amount to relate this time, only anything urgent arising from that will be included here. The next meeting is arranged for 7th October.

The main topic this month (taking up most space anyway) is the Big Lottery Fund. We are asked by councillors Evison and Owen to highlight this, as either the Parish Council itself or individuals in the village can apply. It consists of various programmes as follows: Big Awards for All featuring "small" grants up to £10,000; Changing Spaces, which has already been running two years through 5 award partners; Community Spaces, run by Groundwork U.K. since March, 2008; Community Sustainable Energy, run by the Building Research Establishment since April, 2008; Heroes Return 2, providing funding for any 2nd World War veteran with wife or carer wishing to re-visit the battlegrounds; Reaching Communities, helping those in need (e.g.-mental health); Village S.O.S. launched on 1st June in conjunction with the B.B.C., but as this is for anyone with ideas for a new business should be approached with extreme caution in our case! I can, of course, go into greater detail for anyone interested in any of these, but there are the inevitable web-sites available. The e-mail is; general.enquiries@biglotteryfund.org.uk.

East Riding village communities are being asked to be 'on the alert' for their local church, following thefts of lead from Roos and Fridaythorpe. Rudston is lucky in having nothing accessible worth pinching, but some criminal low-life could still make an expensive mess in finding out.

The next stage of the Low Caythorpe Gas plans is due to begin 7th September with a "3D Seismic Survey". This involves small explosive charges in boreholes around the area. Any landowners affected will be notified and disruption kept to a minimum. I was going to go into more detail, but the confirmation from their surveyors specifically says that 'land within the village' will be excluded. Apparently there should be no more than a 'dull thud' to be heard in any case, and it seems any general disruption is more likely to be from their vehicles moving about, which when on the road will have orange rotating lights.

Apologies for the recent disappearance of the Paper Recycling Bin. It seems that the Council's contractors' driver decided that it was in an awkward position because of an overhead power line, so as is the way these days, simply took it away and left us without one at all. A Council representative subsequently met our chairman on site and agreed that this was pretty poor. She was to see about having it returned and also to investigate the possibility of having a plastic bottle container installed. At the time of writing we await further developments.

The village "Streetscene" visit wasn't all that successful for various reasons, and a number of areas which were missed or could be improved upon have been noted, with a view to having the Highways gang back again at some point. Funnily enough, there, was a questionnaire about Streetscene in my own copy of the monthly Parish News, which apparently wasn't included in Rudston - did they know what sort of replies they would get!
